BC FARMER ID CARD APPLICATION

BCAC
BC AGRICULTURE COUNCIL

CHECKLIST:

To receive your BC Farmer Identity Card, ensure you have the following items ready to submit to BC Agriculture Council (BCAC) with your application:

- ☐ 1. A completed signed Farmer ID Card application form; unsigned forms cannot be accepted for submission;
- ☐ 2. Your Property Assessment from the current year;
- ☐ 3. Payment (either a cheque payable to "BC Agriculture Council" or credit card number for the required amount).
- ☐ 4. If the farm operates under a name different from your own or it operates on leased land, please include a copy of the current lease agreement and the Property Assessment stating the name of the owner.

Submit application by email to fidcard@bcac.ca; fax to (604) 854-4485; or mail to address at bottom of form.

BCAC operates under sectoral membership and does not have direct membership. If you belong to an association that is a member of BCAC, you qualify to submit the lesser fee. If not, please submit the non member fee.

The fees are as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

By applying for or renewing a BC Farmer Identity Card, the qualified Farmer ID Cardholder and all additional Cardholders agree to abide by the following Terms and Conditions:

- The applicant consents to BCAC sharing their contact information (such as name, email address, and phone number) with BCAC Member Associations for the purpose of membership verification. If consent is not provided, BCAC may be unable to process the application or renewal.
- The applicant and all additional Cardholders consent to receive promotional communications from BCAC about Affinity Program partners, programs, and sponsors. Each cardholder may unsubscribe at any time.
- All lost or missing cards must be reported to the BC Agriculture Council office toll free at 1.866.522.3447 or by email at fidcard@bcac.ca. All cards can be replaced for a fee, plus applicable taxes.
- The BC Farmer ID Card is NOT transferable. Each card is unique to the qualified Farmer ID cardholder and/or individual additional cardholders. Should the qualified Farmer ID cardholder or addition cardholder no longer need their card, the card must be returned to the BCAC office to protect the individual's information on the cards. Should a new employee require an additional card, the qualified Farmer ID cardholder may request a new card at the regular fee plus applicable taxes.
- All expired BC Farmer ID Cards must be returned to the BC Agriculture Council office. This is intended to protect the individual's information on the cards. The expired cards will be destroyed appropriately and permanently. The qualified Farmer ID cardholder may renew his/her card and any associated additional cards.
- You are entitled to a full refund if you contact the BC Agriculture Council office within ten (10) days of the original application being processed and payment completed.
